NEWS ON TRUST RESEARCH

from the First International Network on Trust

The past few months have challenged us all in different ways: be this learning to work exclusively from home, changing the way in which we conduct research, or balancing multiple demands. We have all been affected in some way, and FINT is not immune. We have taken the difficult decision to delay our FINT workshop. This seems most sensible to ensure that as many people as possible can attend in person. We value the face to face networking opportunities that FINT workshops provide and hope that by delaying, we can preserve this element.

In more positive news, we have an update on publishing in AMJ (which should be welcome news for those who have been asked to pause face-to-face testing), notification of exciting trust workshops, and provide a list of recent trust publications.

FINT2021 Workshop: Update

Due to the uncertainty surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic and restrictions on travel, we have postponed the FINT workshop. This will now take place 10-12 November 2021. Further update to follow in our next newsletter.

AMJ and M-Turk: Update

In our last newsletter we were fortunate to have Bart De Jong share his advice on how we can increase our chances of publishing in AMJ. Reading through his advice, you may have noticed that M-Turk studies were listed as something to avoid. With a hint of disappointment, we asked Bart for advice on what we can do if we have such data, "Should we look for another outlet?" What we heard should please all trust researchers who have used M-Turk. Bart clarified:

"M-Turk only won't fly at AMJ. If part of a larger (multi-study) package, AMJ would definitely welcome these."

We did a short celebratory dance.

AOM: Professional Development Workshops on Trust

Nicole Gillespie, Ashley Fulmer and Steve Lockey are running an asynchronous (pre-recorded) PDW on "Multilevel Trust in Organizational Contexts: Insights, Challenges, and Future Directions." Material for this PDW will be available to view at your convenience from the start of the AOM conference until 31st October (contribution to the session via chat ends on 31st August).

Oliver Schilke and Bart De Jong are running a synchronous (live) PDW on "Trust between Individuals and Organizations." The workshop will be held on 11 August 2020 @ 7PM (EDT). More information here.

Registration for these workshops is not required, but you do need to register for the AOM meeting.

EGOS2021: Trust dynamics

Guido Möllering, Lovisa Näslund and Kirsimarja Blomqvist are co-convening the subtheme "Trust Dynamics" at EGOS2021 (8-10 July 2021). NOTE: Call for papers will be released by early September for submission early January 2021. More information to follow in the next newsletter.

In the news

In memoriam

You may have read the sad news that Oliver Williamson passed away on 21st May. Oliver was a leader in Organizational Economics and made significant contributions to the way we think about trust. In 2014, the Journal of Trust Research published a special issue on examining the relationship between trust and calculativeness, which drew on proposals put forward by Oliver.

Congratulations

Our congratulations to Pri Shah, who has been awarded the role of new programme chair-elect at the Academy of Management Conflict Management Division.
